

Insight is a commercial case assessment product that we provide for our clients. It provides an early case analysis, which can either help you find a way towards early settlement of disputes or assist with the commercial decision to fight or defend a claim.

What does Insight offer?

Our Insight commercial case assessment provides clients with:

- an upfront analysis of the merits of their case;
- an assessment of the work involved in delivering the key stages of the proposed litigation strategy;
- the costs in financial, management and other time;
- identification of the key issues and key sources of documentation; and
- recommendations on the tactics for the implementation of the day to day management of the case in order to achieve an early and cost effective resolution.

How can Insight help you?

The Insight assessment ensures that:

- all stages of the work are properly scoped thereby ensuring that we identify the right team for the project and make you fully aware of the potential costs;
- the litigation process is carefully managed;
- the necessary stages in the e-disclosure processes of identifying, preserving, collecting, reviewing, analysing and producing electronic data are considered from the outset;
- the assessment is tailored to your objectives;
- you understand the merits and risks involved in the case; and
- an early assessment is made for the purposes of considering alternative funding mechanisms such as conditional fee agreements, after the event insurance and third party litigation funding.
