

Prudential borrowing

Local authorities are becoming increasingly active in borrowing funds and entering into credit arrangements under the prudential borrowing powers in the Local Government Act 2003.

Mills & Reeve's local government experts can provide up to the minute advice on all issues surrounding the exercise of these powers in order to ensure that the requirements of the Prudential Code are met.

In addition, because we also have specialists in major projects, PFI/PPP and regeneration we will ensure that your legal advice is tailored to your needs and takes accounts of the broader picture.
