

entrepreneur networks in Cambridge

Cambridge Network (CN)

Cambridge Network enables its members to work together and leverage their collective resources in new ways for the benefit of technology-enabled enterprise in the Cambridge sub-region. Founded in 1998, CN has more than 900 members across business, government and academia.

www.cambridgenetwork.co.uk

Enterprise Link

Enterprise Link offers support to early-stage entrepreneurial technology-based businesses. It assists the growth of companies through networking, providing first-level advice, signposting information and arranging ad hoc clinics giving access to specialist advisers. Launched in 1999, Enterprise Link now has 200 members.

www.enterprise-link.co.uk

Cambridge High-tech Association of Small Enterprises (CHASE)

CHASE is an association of small businesses in the Cambridge area working in, or associated with, high technology. Founded in 1987, CHASE focuses on technology start-ups and small enterprises, particularly catering for the needs of those with fewer than ten employees.

www.chase.org.uk

Cambridge Europe and Technology Club (CETC)

CETC is a group of high-tech businesses and service providers aiming to improve profitability, technical and business skills and market penetration in Europe.

www.cameurotech.org.uk

Cambridge University Local Industry Links (CULIL)

CULIL is a forum for dialogue between the university and local businesses. It provides a neutral space for contact between different commercial and academic communities in the region, where issues of common interest can be discussed.

www.clo.cam.ac.uk

Eastern Region Biotechnology Initiative (ERBI)

ERBI was established in 1997 as a networking and communications organisation to enhance the growth and development of biotechnology in Cambridge and the East of England.

www.erbi.co.uk

Cambridge Angels

Cambridge Angels is a group of high net worth investors who have proven experience as successful entrepreneurs in technology and biotechnology. Members invest in and mentor high quality technology and biotechnology companies in the Cambridge area.

www.cambridgeangels.co.uk

East of England Development Agency (EEDA)

EEDA aims to promote the positive benefits of living, working and investing in the East of England. It plays a strategic role bringing together the work of partners and businesses at a regional level and enabling the spread of best practice. EEDA's wide ranging remit includes economic development, business support and investment and development of a clear identity and profile for the East of England.

www.eeda.org.uk

Cambridgeshire Chamber of Commerce and Industry

Cambridgeshire Chamber of Commerce is one of the largest business membership based organisations in the region and is dedicated to supporting the continued success of Cambridgeshire, both economically and as a place to live.

Chamber members enjoy an enhanced range of services which includes:

- legal services – advice on employee/employer legislation, legal and tax issues at the end of a phone 365 days a year;
- training for your business;
- more than 50 networking events;
- discounted room hire rates;
- high quality business information service;
- export and international trade; and
- representation and lobbying.

www.cambridgeshirechamber.co.uk

Great Eastern Investment Forum (GEIF)

The Great Eastern Investment Forum (GEIF) is a leading UK business angel network located in Cambridge which exists to introduce ambitious, innovative companies seeking funding to business angels and other early-stage funders seeking quality investment opportunities.

www.geif.co.uk

Library House

Library House is the authority on privately held high-growth companies in the United Kingdom. Library House helps professionals discover, compare and monitor private high-growth companies as they progress through their lifecycle from initial investment to partnering, trade sale or public offering.

www.libraryhouse.net